THE MINTH CENSUS.

THE NEW ENGLAND STATES.

The Saumeration Complete—The Result, and Comparisons with the Past. The census of the six New England States is complete. We have already published the returns for Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Those of the three other States are given below.

The Population of Maine. since the census of 1790, has been as follows:-Increase, 76,986 30°45 33°89 .899,455 .501,798 102,333 25-62 81,376 45,110 593,169

16-29 7-74 34 * .. 630,428 2,149 Of the sixteen counties into which the State is divided, five only show an increase, while in eleven there has been a decrease since 1860. The ship-building counties, excepting Aroostook, show the largest decrease, the agricultural counties coming next, while the largest increase is shown in manufacturing localities. The thriving period of Maine, as far as population is concerned, was in the early part of the century, when it received a large immigration from the older New England States. Its percentage of growth has steadily decreased until it now barely exceeds one-third of one per cent. in a decade. The State will lose at least one Congressman, unless the whole number of members is increased under the new apportionment. There will also be a considerable readjustment of the political power of the different counties in the Legislature. The Papalation of New Hampshire undergone the following changes since has exhibited the following fluctuations since a stand still between 1850 and 1860, exhibiting during that period the smallest percentage of increase of any State in the Union, the States that came next in order being New Hampshire. South Carolina, and Maine, It has now taken a fresh start, and may hope to hold its own hereafter, through the development of its manufacturing interests.

The Six New England States. The comparative population of the six New England States in 1860 and 1870 is shown in the table given below. Later returns from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut have slightly modified the totals in these States since we gave the details:-

Maine	1860. 628,279 326,678 315,698 ,231,666 174,629 460,147	1870, 630,428 318,300 330,235 1,457,385 217,356 537,468	(dec.) 7,778 15,137	Per ct. (dec.) 2:38 4:81 18:38 24:48 16:81

Totals......3,135,283 3,491,172 355,889 11:35 By exchange of territory with Rhode Island since 1860. Massachusetts lost 3485 inhabitants, and Rhode Island gained an equal number. Taking this circumstance into account, the actual increase in Massachusetts since 1860 has been 229,804, or 18.72 per cent., and that of Rhode Island 39,251, or 22 04 per cent.

The fellowing presents a general summary of the aggregate population of the six New England States at each decennial enumeration, with the increase and percentage during each decade, and the percentage of increase in the entire Union during the corresponding period: -

Bestow good health upon a man, so that he can labor every six out of seven days, and no matter how poor he may have been at the commencement of life's great race, he will be certain to accumulate a fortune, provided he takes care of his earnings. PLANTATION BITTERS IS certain to make the weak ones strong, and to preserve the health of the healthy. From four to six hours is considered the ordinary limit for brain work. At the expiration of this time the phosphorus is carried off, and the man becomes irritable and nervous. If he is poor, and continues on at his task, as most of poor doctors, lawyers, and editors do, he will be certain to shorten his days and fill an untimely grave, as did Sir Walter Scott, unless he uses Plantation Bitters, which speedily restores his vital energy, repairs his indigestion, and corrects the sluggish circulation of his blood.
